DWARF FRUIT TREES

- Take Little Space • Bear Young

Fruit — Flowers — Foliage

Now Maloney's have developed the perfect tree for modern living! Imagine your garden graced by a perfectly shaped "Darling Dwarf" tree that will bring you year around pleasure with graceful rounded form, beautiful fragrant flowers and luscious tasting fruit!

Many trees soon become too large or misshapen and have to be replaced, but "Darling Dwarf" developed by grafting upon special roots are guaranteed never to grow taller than ten feet. They will remain ever rounded and shapely, accentuating the architectural lines of your home. Many experienced gardeners plant these trees for the springtime spectacle of a rounded mound of myriad pastel colored blossoms, scenting the air with the very fragrance of spring.

All summer the graceful limbs of these "Darling Dwarfs" are clothed in lustrous green foliage, but with the advent of autumn, lo and behold, you are graced with orchard size fruit hanging within reach, ready to be enjoyed.

Be one of the first in your community to plant a "Darling Dwarf." You'll be glad you did. Supply extremely limited. Be sure to order early.

DWARF APPLES

We offered them for sale, the first of their kind sold in the United States. They are without question the "perfect" trees for the lawn or garden. Height 6-12 feet.

POLLINATION

Whether Standard or Dwarf--Apples, Pears, Sweet Cherries should have two different varieties for cross pollination. They will set some fruit without another variety, but will bear much heavier if cross pollinated. Sour Cherries, Plums and the Peaches we list are all self-pollinating.

Individual trees not over 500 to 1000 feet apart will be satisfactorily cross pollinated, if the weather at blossoming time is warm enough for bees to be active. In solid blocks of closely planted trees, however, pollinizers should be provided every third or fourth row for best results.
